

MY HEART WAS IN THE GAME BUT MY HIP WASN'T.

The first twinge of pain struck mid-swing. Within a few months I couldn't swing at all. My doctor explained there are many reasons a hip goes bad, including genetics, arthritis and the aftereffects of an old injury. Mine was the latter. The big question was when to have surgery. My doctor said the pain would tell me. In a few months the pain was debilitating—I knew it was time. I chose Bronson for my surgery because, as my surgeon put it, that's where he does his best work. Bronson embraces Positivity. It's in the people. It's in the private rooms. It's in Bronson's state-of-the-art operating suites. Four months and many rounds of golf later I'm swinging proof of that.
